DELEGATES BACK FROM TRIP FOR NATIONAL PARK

Pleased With Results of Journey But Predict Hard Fight—Main Trouble to Get Acreage
For Park

DELEGATION OF FIFTEEN TO BOOST NORTON PROPOSITION

A. P. Liebig and T. R. Hill have returned from their trip to Washington in the interest of the Cumberland Gap national park proposition. They are enthusiastic over the accomplishments of the trip, but they assure Middlesboro people that it will take a long, hard fight to put the proposition over in its entirety.

The principal difficulty now will be in getting the acreage for the park, both Mr. Liebig and Mr. Hill say. The donation by L. M. U. trustees of 2,000 acres is a large start in this way, but a great deal more land must be procured. They point out that the government will not buy land for a park here when they already own or can have given to them great tracts elsewhere.

Every thing that could be accomplished at this time was done by these men. They took their proposition before the committee on public lands for a hearing. Congressman Robison introduced a bill asking a park here as a memorial to Lincoln and got his bill referred to the committee on public lands. Congressman Slempp's bill for a park near Norton, Va., was introduced last May on this precedent over this. However, that site is opposed by the national park commission because it is not of enough historic interest and as Mr. Slempp leaves Congress in March the measure has little chance.

A delegation of about fifteen persons from Virginia were in Washington in the cause of their park and had some good maps and drawings of the place. The Secretary of Interior has already been there and speaks favorably of the site.

The Middlesboro delegation say that we should first have the national park commission here to look over the place and understand the situation with L. M. U. and Cumberland Gap. Then the Secretary of Interior should be interested. Most important of all, though every effort to get the acreage should be made, for without this the whole proposition is bound to fail.

Situation Reported Quiet Now—
Soldiers on Guard There

By Associated Press

FRANKFORT, Feb. 15.—Orders were issued today withdrawing fifteen national guardsmen on duty at Corbin. Orders were issued after Major K. Dillon, commander of the troops there, reported the situation quiet.

Troops were ordered to Corbin two weeks ago after authorities reported the city was dominated by a lawless element, the outgrowth apparently of railroad labor troubles.

NO RUSSIAN JEWELS

Body Disinterred By Government To Satisfy Report Of Smuggled
Gems

By Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—One of the Russian crown jewels were found in the coffin of Seaman James Jones, when his body, buried in Brooklyn cemetery, was disinterred yesterday by the government. Exhumation was ordered to settle the question whether four million dollars worth of gems once belonging to Czar Nicholas had been smuggled into the United States in 1920 on the army transport Idele. The reported smuggling of concealed jewels was in the coffin of Jones who died in Gibraltar while the transport was on the way from Vladivostok. The exhumation proceeded under guard of a company of soldiers. It was removed to the Mortuary here. The casket and body were carefully examined. "There is nothing to report; no jewels found," was the terse report of Colonel Gallagher, army officer in charge.

A delegation of about fifteen persons from Virginia were in Washington in the cause of their park and had some good maps and drawings of the place. The Secretary of Interior has already been there and speaks favorably of the site.

GANNAS BACKL. M. U. PROSPECTS

Judge Morison Enthusiastic Over
Washington Meeting—No
President Named Yet

"I have never seen brighter prospects for the University," reported Judge J. H. S. Morison, the vice president of the board of directors of Lincoln Memorial University, on his return from Washington, where he attended the Lincoln banquet and the meeting of the directors, February 12. "A tremendous interest in the University is being taken by men of great wealth and influence, and it is just a question of time until some large gifts will be secured."

Judge Morison stated that among the men most actively interested was W. H. Hammond, of the U. S. Civil Commission, and that Secretary Weeks had made a strong plea for the support and endorsement of the institution at the luncheon where Secretary Mellon was present.

Another meeting of the committee to select a president will be held in Cleveland, Ohio, in the near future, at which time the two men under consideration will be present for an interview. All applicants for the place have been eliminated except J. J. Higginson, of the Cosset Technical School of Memphis and Dr. R. O. Matthews, of the Prohibition Bureau. This committee to select a president is composed of Arthur L. Garford, of Elizabethtown, Ohio; Judge J. H. S. Morison, of Cumberland Gap, and Judge C. L. Marvin, of Gambier, Ohio.

Judge Morison reported that a meeting had been held in New York City on February 12 in the interests of the University, where Dr. J. J. Tigert, U. S. Commissioner of Education, was the principal speaker.

More Than Sixty Jewelers Occupy
Building Which Burned—Gems
In Safe Intact

By Associated Press
NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—A fortune in gems, gold and silver, estimated at two million dollars, was buried in safes in the smoldering wreckage of a six-story office building destroyed by fire in Maiden Lane, the jewel center of the world. More than sixty jewelers and silversmiths occupied the Cupid Building, when the floors collapsed during the fire. Safes were sent tumbling into the deep cellar. Experts said some valuables undoubtedly would be found intact. Meanwhile the cellar is guarded by a cordon of police.

Local Republicans Who Attended Lincoln Banquet in Louisville Sure of His Election

That there is no doubt but what attorney-general C. L. Dawson will run for governor on the Republican ticket next fall, "and be elected, too," was the report of Middlesboro Republicans who attended the Lincoln Banquet at the Seelbach Hotel Monday night. Every one there was for Dawson, they said, and he was urged to make formal announcement of his candidacy at this time. He, however, would not do this.

Senator-elect S. D. Fess of Ohio, was the chief speaker at this banquet. Governor Edwin P. Morrow made the welcoming address. Those attending from here were: J. L. Manring, W. S. Williams, Dr. and Mrs. Jacob Schultz, H. C. Chappell, W. H. Bowman, J. E. Evans, J. F. Bosworth, M. S. Hollingsworth, William Costello, John Miller and Dr. J. W. Fitzpatrick. START CAMPAIGN TO IMPROVE
ELLEN MYERS SCHOOL BUILDING

HARROGATE, Tenn., Feb. 15.—The Ladies' Community Circle of Harrogate gave a valentine program in the Ellen Myers School building last night. Mrs. Walter F. Jones, the president of the circle had charge of the program, and she was assisted by Mrs. Bessie Anderson, and Miss Ruth Moore. Refreshments were served at the close of the entertainment.

The purpose of the meeting was to awaken an interest in improving the conditions of the school and to begin a campaign to raise funds for equipping the building with new desks and blackboards. C. P. Williams was made chairman of the committee to direct the efforts of the local people. A committee composed of Clay Cunningham, Charley Rose, R. E. Dossert, and Mrs. White Southern, Mrs. Perry DeBush, and Miss L. E. Dunforth was appointed to go before the county school board and present the needs of the school.

As the city does not pay the expense of a garbage collector, individuals will pay the expense of hauling away the refuse matter. Dr. Hays has discussed the matter of drayage with a man and it is thought that he will take the job collecting the garbage, making periodical visits to each house and receiving a small compensation from each of those accepting the service.

An amendment to the city ordinance on garbage disposal providing for covered receptacles has passed the first reading and will doubtless become a law at the next meeting of the city council.

COLD WAVE NOW EXTENDED OVER ENTIRE COUNTRY

By Associated Press

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—The South and Atlantic seaboard today began to feel the bite of the cold wave. It is predicted temperatures will be twenty-five in Atlanta with Tennessee, Alabama and Mississippi probably experiencing drops from fifteen to twenty-five above. Scores of trains are canceled in Michigan due to the snow. Business is halted and schools closed especially around Traverse City.

TODAY COLDEST OF WINTER WITH THERMOMETER 15 ABOVE

With a minimum temperature of 15 degrees above zero, this is the coldest day of the year, according to B. H. Perkins, weather observer. In November last year the mercury descended to 14 one day, but with this exception the record for low temperature for the entire winter goes to today.

We are getting out a small part of the cold wave that is sweeping North America from Alaska to Florida. Present indications are that we will have cold weather here for another day or two.

her first husband, Charles M. Vance,

State elected to try Mrs. Lindsay first

TERDAY—LITTLE DAMAGE

Two runs were made by the fire department yesterday and only a small roof damage resulted in each case. The residence of Henry Eppterday morning. Last night about 7 o'clock the fire engine was called to a house on the Brewery road owned by the Middlesboro Ice and Cold Storage company. In both cases the fire department arrived on the scene in time to prevent serious loss.

REPORT PARTS OF CITY UNSANITARY

Miss Marx And Dr. Hays Make Inspections—To Provide Garbage Wagon

Some parts of the city are in an unsanitary condition from careless disposition of garbage, according to Miss Wilhelmine Marx who has been assisting Dr. George Hays, county health officer, in recent inspections.

Some persons were given three-day notice to remedy conditions; others were given thirty days.

A number of cases were so bad that they had been reported to the authorities. These are receiving the first attention of Dr. Hays and Miss Marx. The health officer will be in Pineville until Saturday, but on his return here the inspections will be resumed.

As the city does not pay the expense of a garbage collector, individuals will pay the expense of hauling away the refuse matter. Dr. Hays has discussed the matter of drayage with a man and it is thought that he will take the job collecting the garbage, making periodical visits to each sation from each of those accepting the service.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Objection

"This thing is sugar coated," said
Reed, referring to the funding agree-

PRAYER MEETING LAST NIGHT

Dr. J. M. Roddy spoke at Baptist prayer meeting last night, his first public address since he was taken ill last summer. The church was crowded with his friends and there was scarcely a dry eye among them when the beloved former pastor finished speaking.

Dr. Roddy said that he felt better than he had in fifteen years and that he was now eagerly looking forward to the time when he could take up his work again. He praised the work and progress of the church here, saying that he had put so much of his life into it that he still felt a part of it.
Dr. Roddy was pastor of the First Baptist Church here ten years and the present church building was constructed while he was here.

Dr. Roddy opened the service at the ville Tuesday with a prayer. In his weakened condition he had to be assisted to the platform.

A THOUGHT

Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth.—2 Tim. 2:15.

The pleasure a man of honor enjoys in the consciousness of having performed his duty is a reward he pays himself for all his pains.—Le Bruyere.

UNSANITARY MIDDLESBORO

Recent reports of health officials again remind us of the unsanitary condition of our city due to the improper disposal of garbage. We are all aware of the condition. All that is necessary to get first-hand, undeniable information on the subject is to stand at almost any point in the city and casually glance around. We have been used to this unsightliness and uncleanliness so long that, doubtless most of us have become accustomed to it, but what do visitors from other and cleaner towns think? It is safe to say that an honest opinion from them would be likely to offend us.

Cumberland Avenue, our principal business and residential street, and the one visitors are sure to see, is no exception to the rule. It is unfortunate, of course, that we have no municipal street-cleaning department, but merchants could at least refrain from throwing garbage on the streets in front of their business places. A few short weeks and spring with its attendant hordes of flies will be here. If all the garbage could be cleaned up before that time, covered containers provided for food scraps and other refuse matter and the city put in a general condition of sanitation, the breeding and feeding places of these pests would be eliminated and the image would be almost annihilated.

Miss Whibleine Marx, Red Cross nurse, says that usually the police are reluctant about bringing those to justice who have been served with notices and have failed to comply with the city ordinances regarding disposal of garbage. Full cooperation of this department is necessary for a successful clean-up campaign.

With a little time and perhaps a small expense on the part of each resident or property owner, Middlesboro streets, alleys, back-yards and vacant lots could be put in a first-class sanitary condition.

The city is our home and should be kept as neat and tidy as the houses in which we live.

AN EVERLASTING MEMORIAL

The incomparable memorial to Lincoln in the form of a beautiful Doric temple, near the banks of the classic Potomac, overlooking the city in which he worked more than four of the years of his official life, that temple may yield to time or some terrible conflagration and decay or fall. But the erection of the proposed university at or near Cumberland Gap, if endowed as is now proposed, will stand as a monument to Abraham Lincoln while civilization endures.

The young men and women who go out from that institution will go out into the world as walking, working, living monuments to the greatly beloved man whose name has been given to the institution. In his address delivered Monday, the anniversary of Lincoln's birth, President Harding expressed eloquently his appreciation of the movement to amply endow the Lincoln Memorial University.

The occasion of President Harding's soul-stirring address was a meeting of the friends of Lincoln Memorial University in Washington Monday. The President gave utterance to facts and conditions which for many years have been now and then pointed out in the editorial columns of this paper. He spoke of the inhabitants of the southern Appalachian range, as "pioneers from the tidewater country, now numbering some six millions and as constituting one of the world's greatest reservoirs of purest Anglo-Saxon stock."

President Harding further said: "Today they number a population double that of the thirteen colonies on the day they declared independence; the greatest single reserve in all the land of untaught, unmixed, pure and pristine American stock." He said in closing, "For the sake of these splendid, loyal, unquestioning Americans of the true strain our nation knows, it is our duty to hold up the hands of the men and women who are carrying on this work of education, who have lit the lamp of inspiration and leadership for the men and women who have already given immeasurably to American greatness and the growing glory of the republic."

Those who are managing the institution did well when Assistant Justice Edward T. Sanford of the supreme court, was made a member of the board of trustees.—Journal and Tribune.

We live on earth a little space,
And then we find our resting place.

Our life is but a little span,
And death the destiny of man.

We are but figures in a crowd,
Each one of whom will find a shroud.

One thing is sure, one thing is clear,
We'll lie at last upon a bier.

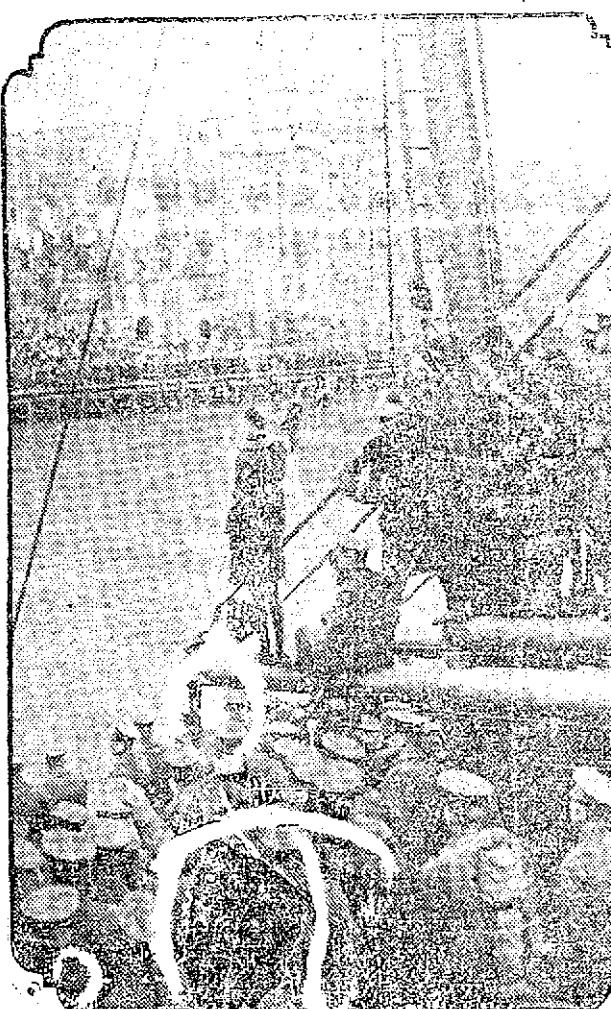

If we be sad or we be mirth,
Our paths lead to the cemetery.

No matter how we may behave,
The one thing certain is the grave."

All right, all right! But why the gloom?
It's true we end up in a tomb,

GHOST STORIES

THE ONE-MAN WOMAN

By Ruth Agnes Abel.

KATE WARD, widow of DAN WARD, living with her father, JUSTIN PARSONS, has a visitor, CHINATON ALICE, who says Dan was father of her child.

DOROTHY, Wooed by JAMES LATHAM, Kate will not answer until she has solved this mystery of Dan's past.

At her request, Alice visits her and departing, leaves behind a man's photograph bearing the initials "J. D. G." Then Kate sees a newspaper account of the presence at the morgue of an unknown man, wearing jewelry marked with the same initials.

LATHAM: "We worship God best by loving men."

MEDITATION: The world is full of wrecked bodies, troubled minds and tormented spirits waiting for the skill, understanding and sympathy to heal them.

HYMN:

"O Master from the mountain side,
Make haste to heal these hearts of pain;

Among these restless throngs abide,
O tread the city's streets again,

PRAYER: We pray for the sick; grant them health, and raise them up from their sickness and make them to have perfect health of body and soul; for thou art the Savior and Benefactor, thou art Lord and King of all. Amen.

MISS MARIA MILLER is a famous big game huntress who fainted before a New York audience because she had never seen such strange things.

In Rome, an opera singer's wife lost a ring worth 10,000 Italian lire, but not worth as much as one good American hat.

They are taking new styles from a tomb 3400 year old in Egypt because they know the women have nothing left from that date.

Our kick against sleeping is it takes one so long to do it.

What secret, she wondered, was the fluffy-haired girl guarding?

"Haven't we better go?" Latham's voice broke Kate's reverie.

"We should get dinner before driving back," he continued.

Without speaking, Kate turned toward the door of the outer room. As they reached the street they halted to let a woman pass. There was something strangely familiar about the figure. Kate stopped and looked after her and the spoke to Latham:

"I know that woman! Don't you remember? She's the one I talked to at Alice's boarding house."

Without waiting for an answer, Kate darted after the disappearing figure. She touched the sleeve of the woman's coat.

"Oh—don't you remember me?" she said.

After a moment's hesitation the new arrival replied: "You're the lady who asked after Alice?"

"Yes, I am! And I've just been here to look at this—this boy." He looked so young that Kate found it hard to speak of him as anything else. "Are you here for that, too?"

"I am," said the woman. "I always come to the morgue to look at the folk no one knows. I always think maybe some day I'll know one and save them a potter's grave."

She advanced toward the covered figure. Once more the sheet was drawn back.

The woman uttered a low exclamation and then turned away quickly.

TODAY'S RECIPES

FRITTERS

By Bertha E. Shapleigh
To make banana fritters take:
Three bananas, a cupful each of flour and milk, the yolks of two eggs well beaten, whites of the same eggs beaten until stiff, two tablespoons of powdered sugar, a tablespoon of lemon juice, a half tablespoon of melted butter or oil, a quarter tablespoon of salt, and hot fat, lard or oil.

Add milk to flour and salt and make a smooth batter, add egg yolks and just before frying fold in the stiffly beaten whites of eggs.

Peel and scrape the bananas, cut lengthwise, sprinkle with lemon juice, cut them into halves, cut each half again and sugar and let stand for 15 minutes; then dip each piece of banana into the batter, thoroughly covering it, and put it in the hot fat.

Fry two minutes drain and set with melted jelly or any hot fruit juice, slightly thickened.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Often soiled lace will respond to cornmeal treatment.

Rub it with the meal, as with soap, and shake lightly with the fingers. When all the meal has been removed it should have taken with it a great deal of the dirt.

You'll get best results by using white meal with white lace, and yellow with darker colored lace.

School Conditions

PINEVILLE, Feb. 15.—Dr. George Hays began the inspection examination of the public school children of Pineville Thursday morning. Each pupil will be weighed, measured and examined as to vaccination, tonsils, adenoids, teeth, posture, nutrition, eyes and ears. There are more than seven hundred enrolled so that it will take several days for the work. Dr. Hays will be assisted by Miss Frances Drusback, health nurse.

No corrections are made at this examination but defects are noted and reports turned in.

Dr. Hays has just returned from Middlesboro where he instituted a cleanup campaign. He will return next Monday to further investigate and see what progress has been made before starting to fine the negligent residents.

COAL FIELD GETS PINEVILLE INTEREST

Kiwanis Program Deals With Importance of Straight Creek Field to This City

PINEVILLE, Feb. 15.—Bob Atkins was chairman of the Kiwanis program dealing with the importance of Straight Creek coal field to the Pineville merchants given at the regular Tuesday night luncheon and held at the Continental Hotel.

A fictitious coal corporation was formed with Hal Mould, president; Jack Bradley, vice-president; R. M. Walt, electrical engineer; B. F. Johnston, civil and mining engineer; Dick Barker, sales manager; and F. M. Meadows, commissary manager. Talks were made showing the advantages of this coal field. Statistics proving that out of the 9,000 coal fields in the United States, this field ranks with the six highest in quality, having only 5 per cent of waste matter. The various members of the programs also showed how out of the $300,000 monthly payroll at least two-thirds of the money was spent with Pineville merchants. It was also pointed out that it would take 135 years to exhaust this 80 square mile field by the average production of 1,000,000 tons yearly, which has been the rate made in the past.

Nothing of importance other than this very interesting and instructive program was done at this meeting.

The campaign to boost Pineville will continue at the meetings to come, however.

FIRST ASSOCIATED CHARITIES REPORT

Nurse Says Charity To Prevent Begging—Discourages Promiscuous

Giving Alms

PINEVILLE, Feb. 15.—The first quarterly report of the Pineville Associated Charities has just been compiled and it is interesting to note the work that has been done by this organization, particularly since it is running on such limited funds.

The nurse's calls in the city number 219, in the county, 101, miscellaneous, 106, office, 173, and the days, spent in the general clinic, 15. This makes a total of 426 outside calls. The secretary's report shows 130 investigating calls, 201 office and 43 relief visits. Besides this 243 letters have been written, 35 grocery orders furnished, 14 transports given and 59 medical prescriptions filled.

In her written report, Mrs. Loraine S. Brown, secretary emphasizes the fact that charity does not mean a promiscuous giving of alms but rather aid, medical, financial or otherwise, in a scientific way, which prohibits rather than creates professional beggars. She points out that the Associated Charities aims to strengthen the home in all of its ties, to make each member of the family an asset rather than a liability to the community.

She also discourages giving to the transient beggar that may appear at your door, for unconsciously you may be doing very much more harm than good, that it is far better to give through the charities that investigate carefully the family needs before aiding them.

MINERS TO HAVE BIG CELEBRATION

Twenty-fifth Anniversary 8-Hour Working Day Observation In

Pineville April 2

PINEVILLE, Feb. 15.—On Monday, April 2, the United Mine Workers of the Nineteenth district, which includes Tennessee and southeastern Kentucky will hold a big celebration at Pineville, commemorating the 25th anniversary of the establishment of the eight-hour working day for miners.

Elaborate plans are under way for this celebration. The committee expects to have more than 10,000 in the parade which will start at 10 o'clock from the courthouse square. The parade will be led by the Odd Fellows band of Lexington, and flags and banners will add color and enthusiasm.

The speakers for the occasion include William Greig, international secretary and treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America, Sanford Snyder, national organizer, and Will Tam Turblazer, provisional president of the nineteenth district.

Other plans for the entertainment of the visitors have not been fully worked out, but announcement is made by the committee on arrangements that no efforts will be spared to make the celebration complete in every detail.

The eight hour working day for miners was brought about by joint agreement of coal operators and miners in Chicago in 1908, and though these celebrations are held frequently for the general upbuilding of the organization, special interest is being manifested this year as 1923 is the twenty-fifth birthday of the eight-hour day.

He would appreciate it if Middlesboro citizens would call on him while downtown and let him assess their property, thus relieving him of the necessity of walking all over town to make assessments. By helping out in this way assessments can be made much more quickly.
